Facts About Our Road to Irvine

The statement has gone forth that Joe S. Boggs, head of the Department of Public Roads, has advised H. G. Garrett, chairman of the Road Commission, that the Stanton-Irvine road had lost by an oversight of some clerical error, but the copy of the Acts controverts this statement of Boggs. The Times reproduces below the records of the acts which are law and too late now to be annulled by even Boggs:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

"1. That there be and now is established as one of the primary road projects of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, the following, to-wit:

"From Stanton to Clay City via the old Forge Mill Ford to Irvine."

"2. The above project or any part of the primary system of highways in this Commonwealth shall be known as Project 4 of the primary system of highways in the Commonwealth adopted and established by and in Chapter 17 of the Acts of the General Assembly of 1920, and shall receive and be entitled to all the benefits allowed and provided for in said Chapter 17 of the Acts of the General Assembly of 1920.

"3. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed."

The above is good news and means much both to the people of Powell and Estill counties. All credit for this road is due our efficient representative, W. T. McGuire.

And it is to be sincerely hoped that the company's holdings will fall into the hands of persons who will see to it that the plant is built.

These Sunday only trains will not run into or from the regular Winchester station on the Kentucky division main line.

End of Fiscal Year

The Fiscal year closes Friday of this week and the new tax year begins July 1st, the date on which date property is assessed for next year's taxes. Saturday morning take a memorandum of all your belongings. Be sure and count your chickens, ducks, turkeys, pigeons and geese, as all of these must be taxed, and next winter look for a raise to meet the needs of the bunch at Frankfort.

Freight Rates Down

Saturday is the day for a decline in freight rates. The Times hopes to see them come down so we can feel it. Railroad employees' wages are also scheduled to drop July 1st. This is most sure to happen but we doubt much decline in freight. They do love the money.

The bonds will then be sold and the funds used on the road. The Powell county road is a favorite with the Estill county folks, and this road is also a favorite with Powell people. Now that it is on the primary system really and truly, and a favorite with all as a second project for the two counties, something should be doing next year. We shall wait and hope.

SLADE

We had a good rain here Monday night which we badly needed.

Mrs. Carl Ewen and two children, of Olay City, are visiting relatives here this week.

Ernest Faulkner, of Winchester, spent Saturday and Sunday here with his mother, Mrs. Minnie Faulkner.

Dr. Johnson, of Stanton, was called here Saturday to give medical aid to Omar, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ewen, who is suffering from an attack of scarlet fever. He is better at this writing.

Mrs. Verlin Snowden and son, Willard, of Stanton, visited friends here Saturday and met her son, Arbor Snowden at the Bridge Sunday and returned with him to Cincinnati for a visit with relatives, also near Middletown, Ohio.

The surveyors expect to have their work complete for the pike contract to be let out in the next few days, and according to an article in the Lexington Herald last Monday, the money for this work due State is ready, therefore the prospect for this road looks good, and no road is more needed than this one. Especially do the Wolfe county people need an outlet to the railroad.

July 10th and 11th are registration days. Every man and woman who fails to register will be disfranchised. We trust every woman in Powell county will register and register independent so the politicians will have to guess and not know how to count the votes beforehand. There is a suit now pending in court to prove the legality of this law, but let us be ready to register.

Wm. Rice, of Nada, continues his fast which is 46 days today (Tuesday). He refuses food. says the time of the departure of his soul from the body is near, that he has always been a poor man according to worldly wealth but that now he is rich and gets his food from a never dying fountain. He is yet able to sit up and walk but firmly refuses all food and it is now thought too late to partake of food, as he is much weaker.

Ye scribe had the displeasure of attending court at Stanton last session and to hear the instructions of Judge Gardnes. His sociable and genial disposition won for him many friends in Powell county, and we trust if in need of another judge to get him again. The instructions he gave the grand jury were very strong against the sale or use of intoxicating liquors, saying a man could not possess or use it in any form (except a doctor's prescription), and moonshine in no way or manner, without violating the law, and laid special stress upon the citizens as jurors to make a close investigation. Next was to give them instructions against carrying concealed or deadly weapons. Every real citizen and all Christians will uphold the law and defend the right and those who fail to do this belong to the same class with the murderers, drunkards, moonshiners, robbers, etc., and the most serious question of all is perjury or swearing lies. Any person that has given human beings a study can tell when a man or woman is swearing falsely, and I speak it to the shame of humanity and our present generation just the condition our country is in. Men laugh and take it as a joke to perjure themselves. What will be the result 20 years hence if there isn't something done? We hope our next Legislature will enact a law and make it compulsory to have one day out of every week set apart in our common schools to teach the importance of telling the truth. Any person that habitually falsifies will be apt to swear one, and of course children should be taught this first in the home, next in the school, and it is time parents were getting our present readers as text books out of the schools. No wonder our boys do not think it wrong to misrepresent themselves. These books teach falsehoods from start to finish. Give us back the good old readers. Every lesson teaches a moral. And give us back the fathers and mothers who realized the responsibility of raising up their children to be useful citizens. We are drifting back into dark ages and if something is not done, and good citizens do not awaken and punish the violators, we will be in the same condition as Russia, and it is no thousand years away either.

Our laws say it is a penitentiary offense to swear a lie, and this certainly ought to be enforced. Make an example out of a few and the rest will take warning. A court is supposed to be a place of justice, but as it is today it is everything but justice. Who is to blame? The citizens that do not enforce the law. We need men and women who are not afraid to do right. Of course such persons will not be popular with a certain element, but who wants to be? We trust more people will visit the courts and see the condition, and also the danger.

The Race Victory at INDIANAPOLIS The Road Victory at WICHITA Help You Choose Tires

500 miles at 94.48 miles an hour—a relentless grind over a rough-finished, sun-baked concrete and brick pavement at record-breaking speed—that is the gruelling test Oldfield Cord Tires underwent successfully at Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. They were on the winner's car for the third successive year and on eight of the ten finishing in the money, upholding the confidence successful race drivers have in the trustworthiness and ability of these tires to meet the greatest demands of speed, endurance and safety. Their records in every other important race have been equally as good.

Consider this achievement along with another test of Oldfield quality made at Wichita, Kansas, this past winter and early spring.

24,525 miles on rutted, icy Kansas roads, running day and night on a Studebaker stock car without a single tire change. This test was made by a group of Wichita automotive dealers in a tire, oil and gasoline economy run. Mayor Kemp of Wichita was official observer and made affidavit to the mileage and service given by Oldfield tires.

You may never subject your tires to the gruelling experience of Indianapolis nor the steady grind of bad winter roads, but it is good to know you can get such safety and mileage economy by buying Oldfield tires. Ask your nearest dealer.

File Your Claim Now

Are you as well today as you were before you entered the service?

You probably are. But perhaps you are not. You may be suffering from an ailment which started while you were in uniform which has not given you much concern, but which, nevertheless, causes you to feel at times that it may grow worse. The chances are you never have filed a claim for compensation if you are in this class. Your pride may have restrained you, or you may have believed it would be an imposition upon the Government for an apparently able-bodied man like you to go before the medical examiners.

If you reasoned thus, your feelings are praiseworthy, of course. But they may, nevertheless, be injudicious. There are some things you ought to do for your own protection. By ignoring any present ailment, due to your service, you may forego the chance later to present a claim for compensation if it should become a real disability. It is important that you have your present ailment, no matter how slight, made a matter of official record.

Every man with a wartime disability, however trivial, who has not filed a claim for compensation should do so before August 9, 1922. This is the time limit specified for the filing of claims under the Sweet Act passed last Autumn. The section of the act containing the provision is as follows:

Section 806: "No compensation shall be payable for death or disability which does not occur prior to or within one year after discharge or resignation from the service, except that where, after a medical examination made pursuant to regulations, a certificate

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars. I don't see how any family can hardly go without it.
